

Elizabeth Church

Elizabeth completed a BA&Sc. from McGill University in 2017, and completed a MSc. in forensic anthropology from Boston University in 2019. She is currently conducting PhD research at University College London, examining how forensic standards, photogrammetry and human skeletal sex estimation intertwine.